URGE Complaints and Reporting Policy for South Dakota Mines

This is what was found by the South Dakota Mines Pod at South Dakota School of Mines and Technology on policies for handling complaints, the reporting process, resources, and possible outcomes. Some information was public; answers that were only found through follow up with contacts are noted.

- The link(s) to the reporting policy at our organization are here:
  - Reporting:
    - https://www.sdsmt.edu/Campus-Services/Human-Resources/Title-IX/Reporting/
    - Note: Reports can be made in person, online, or over the phone

- University Policies:
  - General policies
  - Policy 1:17 (harassment, including sexual harassment)
  - Policy 1:18 (human rights complaints procedures)
  - Policy 1:19 (equal opportunity, non-discrimination, affirmative action)
  - Policy 3:4 (student code of conduct)

- Departmental Policies:
  - No specific departmental policies
  - Falls under University policies.

- Are reporting policies regularly reviewed? What is the process for changing policy?
  - Policies are reviewed semi-regularly by the Board of Regents. The exact timing or frequency of policy review is unclear. However, if a policy is updated, those details are made available.
    - For example, policy 1:17, harassment, including sexual harassment was instituted in 1987 (at least in its current form/policy number), and was subsequently updated in 1995, 2009, 2013, and 2018. Dates of updates to policies are indicated at the end of each document.
  - To change or suggest changes to policies students, faculty, and staff can contact the VP of HR (Kelsey O’Neill), Dean of Students (Dr. Pat Mahon), VP for Finance and Administration (Dr. William Spindle) to provide direct suggestions for changes to any Board of Regents Policies (follow-up with Amanda Lopez).

- Are the rates of reporting made publicly available (e.g. # of reports each year)?
Yes, the rates of reporting are made publicly available for criminal offenses, violence against women. Data are managed and reported by Campus Safety.

Data related to reports of Title VI and VII (harassment related to race/color) are not made available (follow-up from Amanda Lopez (Title IX Coordinator))

- What mechanisms are available for reporting complaints, bias, microaggressions, harassment, and overt racism?
  - Who are the designated individuals/positions for reporting incidents?
    - Amanda Lopez (Title IX Coordinator)
    - Kelsey O’Neill (Title VI and Title VII; HR)
  - Can reports be made online? Where?
    - Yes, Link
    - Reports may be made anonymously.
  - Who do in-person and online reports go to? Who has access to see reports?
    - Bryce Nussbaum (Interim Director of Residence Life and Community Standards) receives the reports and forwards them to Amanda Lopez or Kelsey O’Neill depending on the situation reported.
  - Are police included in the process? When and how? Are individuals accompanied by an advocate or someone from the organization?
    - It is up to the victim if they want law enforcement to be involved - they can choose if it’s dealt with by campus or legally. Individuals can be accompanied by advocates from WAVI or a similar entity, a staff/faculty member, or Doug Parrow (Chief of Public Safety). (Follow up with Doug Parrow)

- What are the outcomes or consequences for reported individuals?
  - What are potential consequences?
    - Listed here (p. 19-23). Vary depending on the severity of issue and type of position.
  - What is the process for grievances and who decides outcomes?
    - Processes for grievances are listed for NFE employees, non-COHE eligible faculty, and COHE-eligible faculty (p. 75-78). Who conducts the review of grievances depends on the type of position.
  - Are reports tracked? How are they tracked?
    - Either Human Resources, a Student Conduct Board, or the appropriate administrator.
  - Are repeated complaints escalated to a disciplinary board? What is the process?
    - It is unclear. It is implied that repeated complaints will result in escalation of consequences, but it also seems as if the process does not deviate from those outlined above, no matter how often the offence is repeated.
